Petitioner,	)

v.	)	MEMORANDUM
	)	AND ORDER
FRED BRITTEN,	)
Respondent.	)

This matter is before the court on Petitioner Gerald T. Smith's ("Petitioner" or "Smith") Notice of Appeal, Motion for Leave to Proceed in Forma Pauperis ("IFP") on Appeal, and Motion for Certificate of Appealability. (Filing Nos. 14, 15, and 16.) On November 1, 2011, the court dismissed Smith's Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus with prejudice. (Filing Nos. 12 and 13.) Thereafter, Smith filed a timely Notice of Appeal. (Filing No. 14.) For the reasons set forth below, the court will grant Petitioner leave to proceed IFP, and deny his Motion for Certificate of Appealability.

MOTION FOR LEAVE TO APPEAL IFP

Pending before the court is Petitioner's Motion for Leave to Appeal IFP. (Filing No. 16.) Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915\(a\)\(1\)-\(2\), and after considering Petitioner's financial status as shown in the records of this court, leave to proceed in forma pauperis on appeal will be granted and Petitioner is relieved from paying the appellate filing fee at this time.

REQUEST FOR CERTIFICATE OF APPEALABILITY

Before a petitioner may appeal the dismissal of a petition for writ of habeas corpus, a "Certificate of Appealability" must issue. Pursuant to the Antiterrorism and

Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 (“AEDPA”), the right to appeal such a dismissal is governed by 28 U.S.C. § 2253\(c\), which states:

(c)(1) Unless a circuit justice or judge issues a certificate of appealability, an appeal may not be taken to the court of appeals from—

(A) the final order in a habeas corpus proceeding in which the detention complained of arises out of process issued by a State court; ....

(2) A certificate of appealability may issue under paragraph (1) only if the applicant has made a substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right.

(3) The certificate of appealability under paragraph (1) shall indicate which specific issue or issues satisfy the showing required by paragraph (2).<sup>1</sup>

A certificate of appealability may issue only if the applicant has made a substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right. See 28 U.S.C. § 2253\(c\)\(2\). Such a showing requires a demonstration “that reasonable jurists could debate whether (or, for that matter, agree that) the petition should have been resolved in a different manner or that the issues presented were adequate to deserve encouragement to proceed further.” Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 484 (2000) (internal quotation marks omitted), citing Barefoot v. Estelle, 463 U.S. 894 (1983) (defining pre-AEDPA standard for a certificate of probable cause to appeal).

<sup>1</sup>Similarly, Federal Rule of Appellate Procedure 22\(b\), as amended by AEDPA, indicates that in an action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254, a notice of appeal triggers the requirement that the district judge who rendered the judgment either issue a certificate of appealability or state the reasons why such a certificate should not issue. See generally Tiedeman v. Benson, 122 F.3d 518, 521 (8th Cir. 1997).

“Where a district court has rejected the constitutional claims on the merits, the showing required to satisfy §2253(c) is straightforward: The petitioner must demonstrate that reasonable jurists would find the district court’s assessment of the constitutional claims debatable or wrong.” Slack, 529 U.S. at 484. Similarly, if the district court denies a petition for writ of habeas corpus on procedural grounds without reaching the underlying constitutional claims on the merits:

[A] COA should issue when the prisoner shows, at least, that jurists of reason would find it debatable whether the petition states a valid claim of the denial of a constitutional right and . . . would find it debatable whether the district court was correct in its procedural ruling . . . Where a plain procedural bar is present and the district court is correct to invoke it to dispose of the case, a reasonable jurist could not conclude either that the district court erred in dismissing the petition or that the petitioner should be allowed to proceed further. In such a circumstance, no appeal would be warranted.

*Id.*

The court has carefully reviewed the record and Petitioner’s Motion for Certificate of Appealability. (Filing No. 15.) Petitioner has failed to demonstrate that reasonable jurists would find this court’s ruling debatable or wrong. For the reasons stated in the court’s November 1, 2011, Memorandum and Order (Filing No. 12), which dismissed Petitioner’s claims with prejudice, the court declines to issue a Certificate of Appealability.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that:

1. Petitioner’s Motion for Leave to Proceed IFP is granted. (Filing No. 16.)
2. Petitioner’s Motion for Certificate of Appealability (Filing No. 15) is denied without prejudice to reassertion before the Eighth Circuit.

3. The Clerk of the court shall provide the Court of Appeals a copy of this Memorandum and Order.

DATED this 22nd day of February, 2012.

BY THE COURT:

s/ Joseph F. Bataillon
United States District Judge
